Carson Valley Museum & Cultural Center's 22nd Anniversary Celebration

Dorothy Scossa, Class of 1940, (center) along with Rosanne Coburn and Carol Turk cut the anniversary cake honoring the Carson Valley Museum & Cultural Center's twenty second year of operation. It was great to see so many familiar faces, and some new faces at the museums' anniversary party. Featured at the event was a sneak peak of the Tahoe Room and Hain's Barn Door.

Built in 1915 the Douglas County High School held its first day of class on January 3, 1916, and continued operating as such until 1958 when it switched to being a Junior High School. In 1983 the building ceased serving as a school house due to new seismic rules and regulations but remained in use for office and storage space. In 1988 a 100-year lease between the then Carson Valley Historical Society and the Douglas County School District was signed and the long process of restoration began. Through the dedicated work of many volunteers and the support of the community the museum opened its door on August 19, 1995, and has remained in continuous operation since. Thanks to our volunteers and staff we're looking forward to serving the community for years to come.

Director's Note...

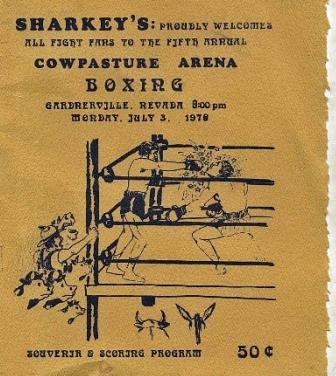

Since the Anniversary party, the Tahoe Room has been painted and work on the exhibits is now ready to begin. This has been a big project. There was so much that had to be done to open up the room, extend the electrical and install new outlets, repair the walls and floor, pick a paint color (the biggest challenge!) and coordinate all this work with our wonderful volunteers! New furnishing for the Van Sickle Library have been ordered, thanks to a generous grant from a local family. A support frame is being built for the sleigh (according to legend, the Hank Monk Sleigh which has been on our front porch for many years) and will secure the sleigh to the stair-well slope shown in the picture top left. This room will be beautiful and a great addition to our museum.

Our thanks goes out to Thor Teigen, Senior Vice President, Branch Manager at Wells Fargo Advisors, LLC. Once again, Thor gave us a "hand" with some heavy lifting and hauling chores. What a hot day it was! We also had help from two of our trustees to get the work done!

Our next Friends of DCHS Work Day & Tailgate Party will be at the Courthouse Museum in Genoa at 8:00 a.m., Saturday, September 16. Come help us make the museum look spiffy for Candy Dance! Chores include grounds clean-up, some light maintenance and a bit of cleaning.

Kudos to Rick Towner for his work in cleaning the memorial bricks. The next step in the restoration of the Flag Pole surround is removing the old mortar from the concrete support base and some concrete repair. Once this is accomplished the bricks will be ready to be replaced atop the surround.

We're happy to report the new parking lot improvements behind the museum at the Carson Valley Middle School are now complete. This work was done by the school district to make for a safer student pick-up/drop-off zone.

Education News for 2016-17 School Year From Iris Blaisdell

Three educational programs are presented to third and fourth grade school students. These are "Trail to the Promised Land", "Schools in the Carson Valley 1860-1900", and "The Pony Express".

With the help of Kim Harris and my husband, Jim Blaisdell, I was able to present these programs to the students at Jack's Valley Elementary and Piñon Pines Elementary. I presented "Trail to the Promised Land" and "Schools in the Carson Valley" to students at Gardnerville Elementary. I also presented all of the programs to the students in talented education classes. This amounted to contact with about 500 students.

Our sincere thanks goes out to all the teachers who participated in our programing and welcomed us into their classrooms.

GREETINGS FROM OUR BOOKSTORE

One of the last Brick & Mortar bookstores in Douglas County

Stories about an “earlier” Carson Valley are fascinating, as well as informative, and in this issue we look at two of those books as well as a couple of our books for children. Come visit our bookstore!

Sleeping with Mae West (and other stories) is a Memoir by Dr. Robert E. Yim. Dr. Yim’s family of parents, 5 children, and several other relatives, lived in Carson Valley at the intersection of Esmeralda Street and Main. As the only Chinese family in the Valley they ran Capitol Dry Goods and Groceries for three decades, with the family living on the premises.

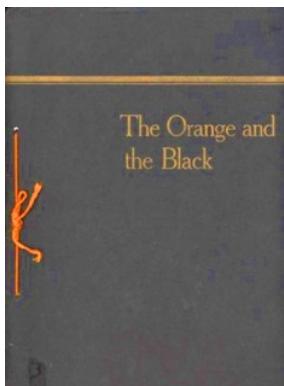

Dr. Yim’s “short stories” about our area take place in the 1930s and 1940s. He graduated from Douglas County High School, class of ’43. He has over 80 stories to tell, not only about our valley, but also about his life in the Navy and as a doctor. You will feel like you’re sitting with Dr. Yim over a cup of tea as he tells stories of his life as a Chinese person over the past 90 years.

Journey to Genoa by Nevada K. Jones is a staple in our bookstore in the “local” section. It is based on the history of her ancestors leaving Wales and eventually settling in Genoa, Nevada. This book follows their wagon trip across this country, all the way to the California gold fields and back to Genoa. If you enjoy reading about the “adventures” of folks on the emigrant trails to the west, you will love this book.

For the children, we have a number of inexpensive, oversized paperback, or as one book puts it – seriously fun, learning books. Games from Long Ago, and Presidents: Facts and Fun Activity Book are meant for children in the 6-8 year old range.

Treasures From the Vault

We are very blessed to have a great variety of artifacts in our extensive Douglas County Historical Society collection. One group of artifacts in our collection is extensively consulted by researchers and community members. This would be our Douglas County High School yearbooks. The earliest issue we have is from 1917. Over the years we have received a volume here and there and have gathered an extensive collection of issues. We make these readily available to those who are seeking information which is often contained in these volumes. But there are times when we are concerned about what we do not have in our collection. After compiling a list of what years we have and what years are missing, we noticed a large gap with missing volumes 1930 through 1935.

The Douglas County Public Library also has a collection of DC High School yearbooks. We shared our list with them and they with us and noticed that they, too, do not have the issues 1930 through 1935. So where were these missing issues? After much discussion about the worldwide financial difficulties of the 1930s, we thought that maybe there were no issues created during that era. But that was just our best guess and not a proven fact.

Enter our wonderful research volunteer. When we posed the question about the missing yearbooks to her, she started researching and sure enough, she was able to answer our question conclusively. Here is a bit of that she found:

YEAR BOOK GIVEN UP BY THE 1931 STAFF

(From The Tiger)

The Annual, which the Senior and Junior classes had planned to issue early in May, has been given up. Early in the fall the staff was elected, and the business managers made a thorough canvas of Minden and Gardnerville for advertising. While the business men signed contracts that amounted to approximately two hundred dollars, a great deal more funds would be needed to put out an annual equal to the books published by other classes.

Business conditions throughout the state have not been the best, so it has been deemed advisable to postpone the publication of the Year Book, until such time that conditions will be righted, and the necessary support more easily secured.

It is probable that the last issue of the high school paper, the Tiger, will be dedicated to the upper classes, and published by the Junior class. This will in a small way deal with the year's activities, and will serve as a record for the Senior class.

Friday June 2 1933, front page

JUNIORS TO ISSUE SCHOOL PAPER

A special edition of The Tiger, Douglas high school publication, will be issued June 5th by the junior class under supervision of Miss Elizabeth Johnstone.

The paper will contain twelve pages 16½ by 11 devoted to activities of the school during the past term, together with pictures of the twenty-five graduates; of the basketball teams, Future Farmers of America and the like.

The special edition contains practically the same amount of material usually prepared for a high school annual, but being set in small type, does not cover so many pages.

Lois Darrough is editor of the special edition, Gordon Drendel, business manager, and have been assisted in their task by all members of the junior class, who aided in the work, one way or another.

So, our search for yearbooks for 1930 through 1935 has come to an end. The good news is that we now know for sure that these issues were never created. The information about these 'missing' yearbooks is now in the Van Sickle Research Library for all those who come searching for information from those years.

With that search over, we want everyone to know that we are still looking for issues from the years 1945, 1953, 1993-1998, 2000-2017. Please search your bookshelves, garages, attics, garage sales and rummage sales. We would love to have a complete set of all issues created by the Douglas County High School for inclusion in our research library.

This search for information about yearbooks highlights the vital role which our volunteers fill in the Douglas County

Historical Society. We are very grateful for the many volunteers who offer their time and skills to work with the collections and exhibits. Volunteers are important to our organization and make it possible to fulfill the DCHS mission. There are a variety of opportunities available at DCHS including working with exhibits, researching artifacts, as well as transcribing documents written in cursive. If you have an interest in working with the collections or exhibits, please call or email me. I can be reached at 775-782-2555 or you can email me at Curator@HistoricNV.org.
